GENERAL RETREAT
BEFORE RUSSIANS*Rome Hears That Withdrawal Has Been Forced by Fierce Attacks.*SOMME BATTLE CONTINUES*Second Phase of Grand Offensive Begins With Great Violence: Allies Receive Reports of Victories in Many Fields; Russian Armies Move.

By Associated Press.

LONDON, July 7.—A wireless dispatch from Rome says word has been received there from Petrograd that in consequence of their heavy defeat in the Somme battle, the German army has begun to move their whole front to the west.

LONDON, July 7.—Capture by the British of a German trench of a front of 1,000 yards east of La Boisselle, in the Somme region, was announced officially today.

The British resumed the offensive on certain sectors east of Albert at dawn today. At the same time, the German launched heavy attacks on the British trenches near Arras. Violent fighting is now in progress.

In the vicinity of Ouliers and Contalmaison, as well as near La Boisselle, the British made progress. In the region of Thiepval the German regained a section of lost ground.

The second phase of the great battle on the western front has now begun. The British have been brought up to new positions, and is again battering the German defenses. The bombardment extends as far northward as La Bassée and Arras, and, according to the latest unofficial advices, is particularly intense. British long range guns are shelling the German positions and the tanks in their rear, and with the artillery again leaves the German lines in uncertainty where the next attacks are to be launched.

In addition to inflicting losses on the German in men, guns and territory, the Anglo-French offensive is reported to have compelled them to withdraw some of their forces from the Verdun front. Consequently, it is expected in London that the army, which for nearly five months has stood the German attacks in that region, will have some relief from continual fighting.

On the eastern front the Russians, who now apparently have even a better supply of guns and ammunition than their adversaries, seem to have passed from one phase to the next without intermission. General Lettich's army, which conquered Bukovina and cut the railways between Delatyn and Korosten, is advancing in an effort completely to overcome the Austrian forces on that front. General Kaledin's continuing to deliver heavy strokes against the Austrians and Germans, who are endeavoring to keep them from Kovel.

With these operations in full swing, the Russians have been augmented an offensive from Riga to Barnaul. Along the north end of the line from Riga to Divlisk a great bombardment has begun, while from a point east from Vilna to Baranovichi artillery preparations, followed by infantry attacks in which the Russians report they made many prisoners, repulsing German counter attacks. Near Minsk the Russians and Germans also are engaged in a severe struggle.

Rumalia, it is said here, is awaiting some move by the Italian forces at Saloniki. The Near East is interested in the battles throughout the Caucasus and Mesopotamia. The Russian army which was advancing toward Bagdad, has fallen back some 50 miles under pressure from great British forces which were being brought in, but elsewhere from the Black Sea to the Persian frontier the Russians according to their own statements, are more than holding their own. No news has been received recently from the British army in Mesopotamia, but it is believed inactivity has been enforced by the great heat.

GERMANS HAD LUXURIES

PARIS, July 7.—The work of sorting the booty taken by the French troops in the fighting at the Somme brings to light many curious facts. In the German camp a heavy German battery was found completely dismounted. The battery commander's shelter alone remained intact.

The luxury of the arrangements in the German positions on the Somme plateau showed that they were considered invulnerable. In the positions occupied by the battery mentioned were a piano, a brass bedstead and a complete hot and cold water supply. The greatest booty fell to General Bullfours' famous "Iron Corps," which distinguished itself at Verdun. This corps took a much material to set up a whole army.

ARTILLERY FIRE HEAVY

PARIS, July 7.—Quiet prevailed last night on both sides of the Somme river. The artillery of both sides was active on the left and right banks of the Meuse, especially on the Thiaumont earthworks, and in the Fleury and Chemin sections. A small German attack on the French trenches at the La Perriere wood failed.

German aeroplanes yesterday dropped bombs on the open town of Lure, killing 11 persons, of whom, except one, were women or children. Two German machines were brought down near Nezier.

CARRANZA ADVISES U. S.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—On instructions from General Carranza the Mexican embassy today advised the State Department of the virtual destruction of a de facto government force Wednesday by a large Villa band of Carrallites, Chihuahua, and suggested that the American border patrol exercise all possible vigilance to prevent the outlaws from raiding into the United States.

SAN ANTONIO, July 7.—General Pershing reported to General Funston today that a rumor had reached him of Francisco Villa's reappearance south of Parral. The report placed the estimates of Villa's men at from 800 to 2,000.

EL PASO, July 7.—The Villa forces have evacuated Jimenez and railway communication has been restored with Mexico City, according to a message received today by General Gonzalez at Juarez from General Trevino at Chihuahua City. General Trevino reported that Carranza cavalry is in pursuit of the bandits.

CARRANZA OFFER ACCEPTED

WASHINGTON, July 7.—A note formally accepting General Carranza's proposal that differences between the United States and the de facto government of Mexico be settled by direct negotiations was handed today to Ulysses Arredondo, the Mexican ambassador designate.

Secretary Lansing took a draft of the note to today's Cabinet meeting and had it delivered promptly after the Cabinet adjourned. The course to be pursued already had been agreed upon by President Wilson and his advisors.

185 AT PICNICPoor Children Entertained at Shady Grove by Salvation Army.

The Salvation Army's picnic for poor children yesterday was a great success. There were no accidents and the youngsters had the time of their lives.

They were taken to Shady Grove in special West Penn cars. At the park there were athletic events, and the amusements were free. A lunch for each child, lemonade, ice cream, and pop were furnished.

The only drawback to an otherwise perfect frolic was the lack of automobiles to take the picnickers home. There were not enough machines and the West Penn cars were pressed into service again for the return trip of those not fortunate in getting an auto ride.

There were 181 kids in all. Captain Phelps is highly pleased at the success of the outing.

STORM LOSS IS HEAVYDetails of Gulf Gale Have Not Yet Been Learned.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The tropical storm which struck the Gulf coast Wednesday with a yet unaccounted toll of lives and property, is now over north Mississippi and moving northward with diminished energy.

Reports of the damage done by the storm along the Gulf coast and in Mississippi and Alabama were still meagre today but enough had been established to make it certain the property loss would amount to several millions.

Seventeen negroes lost their lives near Bolivar, Ala., last night. Crops suffered greatly from the rain. Traffic on the more important railroads was almost completely stopped up and wire communication with Gulf points impossible or badly crippled.

JOSEPH RAMSEY DIESRailroad Builder Succumbs Suddenly to Apoplexy.

By Associated Press.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 7.—Joseph Ramsey, Jr., prominent as a railroad builder and engineer, and former president of the Wabash railroad, died suddenly of apoplexy at his home here today.

Mr. Ramsey was born in Pittsburg 55 years ago and began his railroad career as a levelman for the Pennsylvania. He advanced in the engineering department rapidly and within a few years had built several small lines in the vicinity of his native city. These roads were absorbed by the Pennsylvania and other big companies.

LEADERS AT ODDSDemocrats and Republicans Unable to Agree in Shipping Bill.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Democratic and Republican members of the Senate Commerce Committee came to a parting of the ways today insofar as any agreement over the government shipping bill is concerned.

Democratic senators declared it would be impossible to draft a bill to build up the merchant marine which Republicans would accept without sacrificing every principle in the House bill, and for which administration stands.

THEY ENJOY TRIP*Boys Expect to Reach El

Tomorrow.*A ROUGH TRIP IN SPOTS*First Section, Carrying Company D,

By Associated Press.

ON BOARD TENTH PENNSYLVANIA INFANTRY TRAIN, between Dallas and El Paso, Tex., July 7.—Cheered by the fact that they should reach El Paso late tonight or early Saturday, soldiers of the Tenth Pennsylvania Infantry realized today they were nearing the end of their long journey. En route they had been given the second inoculation against typhoid and will receive the third after they are established in camp.

Brief stops have been made for exercise and drill and the regiment is in fine physical form and fine spirits. Meals have been good and crowds at stations along the way have freely served the boys with sandwiches and hot coffee.

By O. R. Harelek, Staff Correspondent.

ENROUTE TO EL PASO, July 5.—We are now speeding through Missouri on the last lap of the journey to the border. On account of various delays due to the breaking of an eccentric rod on the engine and pulling out of drawheads in several coaches, the first section is 12 hours late. The second section is four hours ahead of us. The running yesterday was extremely rough, the demand for trainmen being so great to man troop trains that it seems almost anybody was put on them. Things got so rough in the cook car yesterday that the boys went to the engineer and told him that if his stops and starts were not made smoother they would take him out of the cab and run him through the paddle brigade. After that things began to run smoother for the boys meant what they said him. The stops were so rough that the cooks could only fill their coffee boilers half full and at that they lost about half of their contents.

We arrived in St. Louis at 3:25 this morning and the boys were all awaked when we reached the Mississippi river to see the sights. The bridge at this place is certainly a long one and is a very pretty sight at night with its many lights and the lights of the barges and river boats.

The boys spent the Fourth in various ways and at times it was hard to realize it was the national holiday. The train stopped in Chicago yesterday morning for about an hour, but remained in the yards all the time so the boys had no chance to see the city. After leaving Chicago the train passed through miles and miles of corn fields, everything seemingly very lush. Most of it seemed to be very late and is only eight or 10 inches high. The broad level fields were quite in contrast to the hilly lands of Ohio, Pennsylvania.

We had quite an enjoyable time at St. Louis, Mo., where the train was stopped for about an hour and all the boys given a chance to go bathing in the Kanakakee river. The boys sure did enjoy the plunge as the mercury was well up in the nineties there. Later in the day the entire regiment, detained at Villa Grove and had a little bit of July celebration parading the streets. This is the first time the regiment had been together since leaving Mount Gretna. The boys of the hospital corps especially enjoyed this as they had been split up with the three battalions.

The boys spend most of their time in dropping slips with their names and addresses to the girls along the line. They were numerous yesterday as there were many pleasures along the line. Some of the girls had 5 or 10 addresses on their list and the boys are expecting lots of replies.

The boys had a complaint to make yesterday when in crossing the Ohio the Uncle Sam turned his watch back an hour and stole an hour's time on them. They said it was bad enough to work for 50 cents a day without turning the clock back on them.

The delay of 12 hours is cutting in on the railroads and there is a fear that there will be a shortage. Company of the third section made a raid on Company D's railcars when the two sections were stopped at the same place and the D boys were certainly "hot up" when they found it out.

Colonel Coulter said no was very much pleased with the appearance of the boys in the parade yesterday and said he was "proud to be their commander. He also complimented them on their behavior the night they entered at Mount Gretna, there being not the slightest confusion.

The boys are taking their morning wash in ice water and washing their mess pans in the same. They are considerably freshened after a splash in the ice water.

Sergeant Joe Abkmeler and Harold McCartney missed the train at one of the stops yesterday, but got on the next section and later rejoined their company at Villa Grove.

Howard Seebert of Company D had his thumb injured slightly by an ice pick in an endeavor to get a piece of ice at one of the stops.

Clyde Rhoadback of Company D got a nasty cut on the temple when the train was derailed.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS STILL GRIPPING NEW YORK*Federal Authorities Join Fight Against Disease; Other States Affected.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 7.—With city, state and federal authorities fighting the disease, the epidemic of infantile paralysis showed little signs of abatement today. During the 24 hours ending at 10 o'clock this morning 22 more children died. Nineteen of this number succumbed in Brooklyn. There were 87 new cases reported.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 7.—Two more cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the state board of health today, bringing the total number of cases in the state to 11. Three cases have been reported from Chicago. One death has resulted.

BALTIMORE, July 7.—A two year old child of Lithuanian parents living near Annapolis Junction, died of infantile paralysis at a hospital here today. So far as is known this is the only case of the disease in Baltimore.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—The general service board of the United States Public Health Service met in conference today to discuss ways and means of combating the epidemic of infantile paralysis in New York to determine what part it shall take in aiding New York state and city authorities.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Six experts of the United States Public Health Service were ordered to New York City today to co-operate with the state and city health authorities in suppressing the epidemic of infantile paralysis raging there.

PITTSBURGH, July 7.—A case of infantile paralysis was reported to the health department today and orders were immediately issued establishing a close quarantine. It is the first case this year, although 13 were listed in 1915.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 7.—Eight new cases of infantile paralysis in sections of the state outside of Greater New York were reported to the state health department up to noon today. This brings the total number of cases outside of New York up to 45.

The department today sent letters to presidents of all railroads in the state requesting that special cars be taken in disinfecting all cars that carried children from New York.

HOME GUARDS; 40 STRONG; DRILL IN THE OPEN AIR*Passing of the Mexican Crisis Tends to Hold the Attendance Down.

The home guard company held its second drill last evening. Captain A. R. Kidd had the men execute their tactics in the open air, on Washington avenue and the lot adjoining the armory. The turnout was large, over 40 men being present. Captain Kidd has enough men on his list to form two companies but the loss of interest in the Mexican crisis, which apparently has passed, held the attendance down.

There is a difference of opinion among the men as to whether drill should be held on Tuesday or Thursday. Captain Kidd has called a meeting on next Tuesday and the day of drill will be decided on then.

The armory will not be available, and Captain Kidd's company will drill in the open except in case of inclement weather. An invitation has been extended to the company to join Laird's regiment of home guards, having Greensburg for its headquarters. It is not likely that this will be accepted, the men wishing to remain an independent company. They will thus be able to join the first volunteer regiment called out for action.

BEATS HIS SCHEDULEJohnson Returns to Uniontown Seven Minutes Ahead of Time.

C. W. Johnson, the Uniontown auto speeder, returned to Uniontown last evening at 6:53, just seven minutes ahead of the schedule he had mapped out to make the run from Uniontown to Baltimore and return in 11 hours. Johnson's maximum speed was 85 miles an hour, which he maintained in excess of that permitted by law.

His companion on the journey was Martin Murphy, whose friends declare has fully as much nerve in attempting a daring feat as Johnson himself.

Two suspects answering to the description of the murderer of little Leo Bricks have been arrested here and are being held at the lockup for identification.

Underside Martins, a Mexican, was arrested last night by Lieutenant Bowers and charged with being a suspicious character. The police say that he answers perfectly the description of the degenerate who committed the brutal crime. Chief Reitter got into touch with County Detective John Smith and he is expected to come to Connellsville sometime today, bringing with him someone to identify the prisoner.

Martins says that he is from San Antonio. He denied everything when the police questioned him. When asked why he was in this part of the country he said he didn't know. Martins is very dark and stockily built.

Another suspect was arrested this morning, when Chief Reitter took a coach with County Detective John Smith and he is expected to come to Connellsville sometime today, bringing with him someone to identify the prisoner.

Martins says that he is from San Antonio. He denied everything when the police questioned him. When asked why he was in this part of the country he said he didn't know. Martins is very dark and stockily built.

The Uniontown police last night arrested Squire Smith of Connellsville, a negro suspect, but later released him. James Connolly was taken at Mount Gretna and brought to Uniontown. This man answers the description in some details.

Conductor Patterson of the Baltimore & Ohio, who says he saw Leo Bricks in company with a man at Hog Island on the day of the murder, is expected here today to look over the prisoners.

FRIEND OF CHILDRENColonel J. M. Schoonmaker Takes Over Accounts of Blind.

It has just been learned that Colonel J. M. Schoonmaker rescued the small savings of children which had been endangered by the failure of the Pittsburgh Bank for Savings, thus proving himself another "Friend of the Children."

When the bank failed last December H. C. Frick announced that the public school children whose money was deposited there would be reimbursed in full, Mr. Frick assuming their accounts. Colonel Schoonmaker, a director of the Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Blind, knowing that a system of saving accounts was conducted by the bank for the blind children of this institution, asked Mr. Frick if his relief plan included the school for the blind. When informed that it was restricted to public schools, Mr. Schoonmaker took over the accounts, placing the proper amounts to the credit of the children in another bank.

A large crowd congregated and the man was carried into the Dunbar House. Here he was treated by Dr. S. C. Douds, and removed to his home.

Big Apple Crop in West Virginia.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 7.—West Virginia's apple crop this year will exceed that of last year by 500,000 barrels, although the production in the United States will fall off materially, according to H. F. LEISNERING BAND WILL PLAY
AT SHADY GROVE ON SUNDAY*Many Frick Plants Will Turn Out to Hear Concert to be Given by the Clover Musical Organization.

The engagement of the H. C. Frick Band of Leisnering, Sunday afternoon and evening at Shady Grove Park, promises to be the occasion of a rally and reunion of Frick employees from all over the region. Always ready to encourage their people in any laudable undertaking, all the superintendents are watching Superintendent Frank's efforts to develop the musical talent at his plant. Those who have heard the band and singers say they will compare very favorably with any organization that has appeared at the park and it has the added merit of being strictly a coke region organization. All the boys and girls are employed at the Leisnering works, no outside professional talent being employed, as is the case with many bands when playing a concert engagement.

The band will be assisted by the Dunbar Township High School Quartet, composed of Eddie Linney, soprano; Edward Murtha, alto; Ray McClintock, tenor, and Harry Ainsley, bass. These are Frick employees who were members of the graduating class of the Dunbar Township High School last year. Ray McClintock will also be featured as a soloist, together with Miss Katie Rafferty, a well known soprano singer. Miss Katie McGowan will be the accompanist. All the singers are members of the Leisnering church choir.

In his invitation to the other superintendents, Mr. Frick expressed the opinion that the concert will be a great one and says that he is more than proud of his young people and that they will prove the Frick company and its employees are always in the lead, even in the matter of vocal and instrumental music. He predicts the largest crowd that ever heard a Sunday concert in the park. The West Penn railways officials are arranging to handle a big crowd and promise that there will be seats for all.

NOT A SIREN, SHE SAYSUniontown Woman Denies Luring Dairymen Away From Wife.

Special to The Courier.

UNIONTOWN, July 7.—Mrs. Mamie A. Reynolds of Uniontown has filed an answer to the suit for $10,000 started against her a short time ago by Mrs. Elizabeth McKittick for the alleged alienation of her husband's affections. It was alleged by Mrs. McKittick that her husband, James McKittick, dairymen of North Union township, had been enticed from his home by Mrs. Reynolds. In her answer, Mrs. Reynolds denies the charges of Mrs. McKittick that she has been unduly intimate with the dairymen. She denies that she enticed and permitted him to visit her home; says she did not go buggy riding with him at night, nor did she receive, keep and maintain him at her home in Uniontown, as charged by Mrs. McKittick in her suit.

Mrs. McKittick recently started proceedings for divorce, charging her husband with infidelity. He is contesting the divorce action, and in his answer to that says that his wife has been living with him since she started her divorce suit. He denies the infidelity charge. Mr. McKittick has also answered the suit filed by Mrs. McKittick at the court at Mrs. McKittick's instance in which he is required to show cause why he should not pay his wife alimony and counsel fees.

TWO JUNK MEN FINEDFurther Arrests Are Made in Effort to Round up Gang.

Two men have been arrested and held for court in the junk dealing case here. Morris Cominsky, who had a wagon and collected junk, and two dealers, Philip Kester and his partner, Billish, have been committed to jail.

Cominsky was arrested in back of the McKinley Hotel several days ago. He was loading some pump fittings on his wagon and said that he had purchased these from a Broad Ford man. These have now been identified as belonging to the Baltimore & Ohio railroad.

Kester and Billish were arrested as accomplices and committed by Alderman Munk on the charge of breaking and entering. Kester gave bail Billish will be taken to Uniontown this afternoon. The men waived a hearing.

Cominsky has already been taken to jail. He went up with H. Iszak, the alleged fire-bug, with whom he was associated. Both men came back from McKeesport together.

ISZAK GOES TO JAILSwartz, Leader of Arson Gang, Has

H. Iszak, who confessed, according to the police, to the crime of arson, was taken to jail yesterday by Chief Reitter. Iszak is the man whose store was burned and who told the police of the big arson gang of which he was a member.

The leader of the gang, declared to be Harry Swartz, has not yet been apprehended. Local officials say that several other arrests will be made soon.

STATE MAY BLOCK
HILL CLIMB OVER
THE SUMMIT PIKE*Formal Sanction Not Yet Received and Plans are Unsettled.*STRONG PROTESTS ARE FILED*Pressure Brought to Bear to Prevent the Event, Which Endangers Travel Over the Mountains for Days and Does Much Damage to the Paving.

Serious doubts have arisen in Uniontown as to whether the hill climb will be held at the Summit this year as planned. It is said that official sanction of the State Highway Department has not been forthcoming, and in face of strong pressure being brought to bear in some quarters there is a possibility that it may be withheld.

It is reported that a number of travelers who last year were both delayed and endangered as a result of the hill climb filed such emphatic protests with the State Highway Department at Harrisburg, that if the climb is sanctioned, it will be with considerable reluctance. In some quarters it is questioned whether even the State Highway Department has the power to authorize the violation of the law.

Immediately following the hill climb last year it was announced at Harrisburg that no further events of this kind would be permitted. The statement was made that the paved road up the Summit hill had been damaged more on the day of the races as the result of high speed driving. It thus by a year of ordinary travel. It has also come to light that a Washington, D. C., man, who was held up for three hours on account of the races, not being permitted to use the highway, not only filed a protest at that time, but has renewed it again this year.

Although strong objections have been made to the roping off of a thoroughfare as important as the National Pike, and the selling of a public right of way for making purposes, the principal complaints have come from travelers who assert that they are in constant danger for days before the race at the hands of contestants who make repeated practice runs. The Summit hill, they say, is dangerous enough with ordinary drivers, without permitting speeders to cut loose at all hours. The fact that these test runs are limited to certain hours, they say, does not alter the case.

It is known that a number of farmers who live in the mountains and have business in Uniontown daily, are greatly inconvenienced by the hill climb. Most of these men drive trucks, and their schedule usually gets them to the hill just about the time the trial runs are made.

MAYOR'S BUSY MONTHHis Office Takes in More Than $1,000
During June.

Mayor Rockwell Marietta has given out his report for the month of June. There were 230 arrests made during the month. Of these 23 were constables' prisoners. Twenty-two were discharged, 16 committed, 52 sentenced to work on the streets, and 57 paid fines.

The cash resulting from fines amounted to $293.05. The city received from licenses $80.00; from license tax, from carnivals and other sources $817.50; and from detaining prisoners, $9.50. The total receipts for the month were $1,300.05.

The number of arrests is smaller than usual this month, undoubtedly due to the street working sentences which have become the custom. The chain gang was reorganized this morning with two members. It has not been in existence for nearly a week.

DISPUTE IS SETTLEDTwo Men Who Have Quarrel Fix It Up Before Alderman.

George Brown and Santo Taconot of the West Side, were involved in a cross suit before Alderman McDonovan a hearing being held yesterday. Taconot was charged with assault and battery. Brown says that the defendant, who is a barber, tried to throw him over a porch railing. Had he succeeded, Brown claims that he would have sustained serious injuries. The costs of this suit were placed on Taconot.

Mrs. Taconot then made a charge of disorderly conduct against Brown, with whom she had been quarreling at the time of the altercation. The costs of this suit were divided.

To Collect Licenses

There are about sixty merchants' licenses still unpaid, and unless the money is forthcoming at once, the city will take strenuous means to collect it. Notwithstanding the fact that license money is due January 1, these storekeepers, drivers, and others liable to tax, have neglected the settlement to date. Those who do not appear at the city hall will be called upon for the cash.

They Get Credit for Their Patriotism.

COLLEGE BOYS IN THE MAJORS

Season is at Hand When They Get a Try-Out. But Closeness of the Race Makes It Impossible for Many of the Teams to Experiment.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, July 6.—Officers of the Amateur Athletic Union are preparing a list of the soldier athletes of the various state militaries with the idea of having a complete record of every man who is prominent in sport and who is or may be enrolled with the forces now being sent to the Mexican border.
A circular letter has been sent to every A. A. U. division, club and military organization asking that the names of all men serving with the troops be forwarded to headquarters together with their records.

From replies there will be compiled a list showing the name, age, club, athletic specialty and record of each man as well as the regiment he is a member of and the place through which mail will reach him. The list will be printed in pamphlet form and revised frequently in order that they may be kept up to date. It is hoped that these booklets will prove of value to the athletes' relatives, the A. A. U. officials and in fact all those who are in any way connected with sports. The list will not be confined exclusively to members of the A. A. U., however, and the names of all prominent sport devoted including tennis and golf players, cricketers and others, serving with the colors will be included as far as available.

The crusade inaugurated by the officials of the New York American League Baseball Club against the battling of certain spectators in retaining ball bats knocked into the stands and bleachers is already showing satisfactory results. The example made recently by the arrest and fining of a few spectators who refused to return balls that came into their possession has proved salutary and the club is now using fewer balls than was the case before the effort was made to curb the practice.

The officials state that they were forced to take action as a result of the number of baseballs lost during every game played upon the home grounds. It is estimated that close to 3,000 balls are used during the season and at $1.25 each they represent an outlay of more than $3,500 each year. A considerable percentage of these balls are lost in the manner described. While the team is on the road no difficulty whatever will be able to successfully make the loss from the college team to the big league combinations. Both the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York
Giants are at present trying out several of the more promising of the various recruits and it may be that one or two will stand the test.

Major league baseball clubs have already started their annual tryout of college players who have made good on "various diamonds this season." While the scouts of the various leagues have been rather liberal in their recommendations it is not likely that many of these youngsters will be able to successfully make the loss
from the college team to the big league combinations. Both the Philadelphia Athletics and the New York
Giants are at present trying out several of the more promising of the various recruits and it may be that
one or two will stand the test.

Harvard will lose by graduation seven of the 16 outsmen who rowed the Crimson "various shells to victory against Yale on the Thames recently but will have a winning freshman crew, from which to draw for the 1917 combinations. Of the winning Syracuse crews in the Poultice regatta the junior varsity will be intact next spring if Coach Ten Eyck decides to row the combination in that order while but one man, Captain Glass, is lost from the university combination.
With 16 of his 16 winning oarsmen back at Syracuse next season and a freshman eight which won second place in the race for first year men, Coach Ten Eyck is better fixed for rowing material for 1917 than any coach in either the New London or Poughkeepsie regatta.

SHOWS ITS PATRIOTISM.

Greensburg in Honor of Company I.
The borough council of Greensburg has authorized the erection of a flagpole near the municipal building and ordered that the flag be hoisted from it in honor of Company I, Tenth Regiment, and be kept aloft until the boys return from duty on the Mexican border.

The action was taken at the instance of W. T. Deen, Jr., a member of the Tenth Regiment during its service in the Philippines.

Taking the Chances.
It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation cannot be obtained on the train or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should be prepared for them. Obtainable

Nick Cullop of Yankees Now Leading American League Pitchers

NICK CULLOP, the left handed pitcher of the Yankees, is leading the American league pitchers. Nick has won more games than any other American league pitcher this season. If for no other reason than that he was responsible for Colonel Ruppert and Captain Huston purchasing Cullop, Lee Magee deserves a vote of thanks from New York fans. It was on his recommendation that the Yankees owners went out and bought the southpaw, although some advised against it. Magee was swept on Cullop last year in the Federal league. He had Nick down at Brown's Wells with the brooklyn. Federalists for awhile and hollered murder when Kansas City refused him. Lee always maintained that Cullop was the best pitcher in the outlaw circuit. Nick's record in that league and his work the past spring for the Yankees prove rather conclusively Magee was right. Nick was rather wild in the spring. Donovan was patient with him and waited awhile before asking the southpaw to take his regular turn in the box. Since his first start Cullop has been the sensation of the American league. He is leading the league's hurriers now. He has done more than any one to keep the Yankees at the front.

At the Theatres

SOISSON THEATRE.

"WHO'S GUILTY?"—The beautiful actress Anna Nilsson starring with Tom Moore appears at the Soisson Theatre today in the second of the two part dramas, "Who's Guilty?" It is a tale of two wealthy mill owners, one with a high-strung son and the other with a high-minded daughter. They hope to have a union of the two families but the son loves one of his father's millhands and the daughter loves one of the minor employees in her father's place. See the rest of this interesting drama at this theatre today.
Marin Sala and Otto Kirkby appear in the two reel drama, "The Social Pirates." In this episode the two girls add to their already notable achievements by rehearsing a pro-fessress who has been swindled into giving up her savings for some worthless stock. "The Ghost of the Jungle" is a Bison two reel drama of the jungle.
While the inmates of the Universal Zoo are introduced throughout the picture it has a very interesting plot. It is the story of a young girl who has been kept in the jungle too long and her bad selection of a conductor to the outer world. "The Fall of Deacon Stillwaters" is a joker con-comit with Gabe Hauer and William Francis. It tells of a rabid deacon reformist who innocently gets reformed the wrong way by the town toughs.
"The Rogue with a Heart" is a Lacumille drama with Robert Henley.
It is the story of a robber regenerated through the love of a woman. Tomorrow, the World Film Corporation presents Kitty Gordon, the most beautifully gowned woman on the screen in the five reel drama "Her Maternal Night."

THE GLOBE.

"THE LOVE MASK"—A five part Paramount attraction starring Cleo Hoddy and Wallace Reid, is being presented today. Perfect photography, settings of superb beauty and marked features of the picture. The story had to do with the adventures of a young woman, who on the death of her parents through the mad rush for California gold in 1849, was forced to seek a claim and take out her existence by panning gold. The sheriff, who in private life is a village blacksmith with a modest but safe investment, aids the girl in a fight with a dastardly parcel of chain jumpers and his stock rises. Presently the sheriff helps the girl in robbing the stage which contains stolen money and his chances brighten. Hold-ups abound in "The Love Mask." A pretty and cleverly worked out incident is the stealing of the silver spoons and the amateur "road agenting" done by the girl. The scene in the rustic courtroom and dance hall are well done.
Saturday Nello Craig and Durwin Karr, Essanay favorites, will appear in "The Naked Soul," a powerful drama in three acts. The production is distinctive for its beauty of the interior settings and the action in its interior, as well as giving Nina Gray and Mr. Karr an opportunity to display their utmost dramatic ability.
Monday, Madame Petrova will appear in "The Worldly Woman," a five part Metro drama.

ARCADE THEATRE.

"WHEN LOVE IS KING"—An Edison photodrama released through

Baseball at a Glance

Kleins-Edison Features, will be shown at the Arcade Theatre today. Carroll McComas was engaged especially to take one of the titular roles in this and co-stars in it with Richard Tucker. The setting and scenery is said to be of exceptional order and demonstrates the earnest attention paid to minute details in all Kleins-Edison features. "When Love Is King" deals with the experiences of a youthful king of one of the present warring nations, who balked at the idea of marrying a princess selected for him by his councillors, instead of being permitted to make his own choice. He flies to the United States and finally obtains employment in the house of J. P. Morton, a New York multi-millionaire, who has a beautiful young daughter. After many stirring incidents, including an attempted assassination and an interrupted elopement, Papa Morton solved the problem by paying a kingdom in Europe—titles and all—and thus making it smooth sailing for Dan Cupid, the self-ordained king and the new princess.
In addition to the feature a single reel of the doings of Company D and the Tenth Regiment at Mount Gretna will also be shown. Target practice, drilling and many other interesting scenes are shown.

3-Piece Colonial Dining $49.00 Room Suite

Your Choice of Golden, or Fumed Oak Finish

45" Top Table—
Solid Oak Construction

It is seldom indeed that you can choose a Colonial Dining Room Suite of this high quality, in the three most popular Dining Room finishes in a suite-selling under $100.

In this case, the choice of finishes makes the suite doubly valuable because you can choose the finish that harmonizes with your dining room decorations, chairs, wall paper, paintings, etc.

This is a splendid chance to have a comfortable dining room at a small cost.

The headline tells the story of the generous size and solidity of the suite.

A 45" top table is always associated with a high price. The buffet and china cabinet are as large in proportion.

Each piece is as solid as the oak it was carved from, each article is a masterpiece of wood joining;
and the Colonial design insures solidity of construction.

And then Colonial is always a popular design and there is no chance of its losing favor.

HE SHOWED THAT SURGEON'S KNIFE LEFT BAD SCAR

Goebel Suffered Great Pain, Which Availled Him Nothing Toward Recovery.

There are scores of residents of Erie who are familiar with the condition of Louis Goebel, the well-known carpenter, and all have sympathized sincerely with him in his sufferings. Mr. Goebel exhibited an ugly erosion-like scar on the outer surface of his abdomen.

"That is what the surgeons did for me. I was in the hospital for three months. They thought I had gall stones in my bladder, and I was told that the inflammation substances had overflowed to my stomach. They operated on me. Yes, sir, but no open, and after all of that suffering I had no results from the operation."

"I have been unable to work for a long time. Nearly everybody who knows me, knows that I am telling the gospel truth. Yes, sir, this Tangle has done what the knife couldn't do for me. I have used one single bottle of Tangle and I feel like a new man. I am improving every day, getting my strength back. I expect to continue taking this Tangle and I am going back to work soon. This Tangle has done more for me than everything else combined, and I have taken, I guess, barrels of medicine. It is certainly like a miracle."

Tangle is now sold in Connelville exclusively by Connelville Drug Co., where the premier preparation can now be had.

Tangle can also be secured in Dunbar at D. C. Mason's Drug Store.—Adv.

What to Do for Itching Skins

There is usually immediate relief for itching, burning and disfigured by eczema, ringworm, or similar tormenting skin-troubles, in a warm bath with resinal soap and a simple application of resinal ointment. The soothing, healing resinal medication stops itching at once, and soon clears away all traces of eruption, even in severe and stubborn cases, unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder.

You need never hesitate to use resinal. It is a doctor's prescription that has been used by other physicians for twenty years in the treatment of skin affections. It contains absolutely nothing that could injure the tenderest skin. Every druggist sells resinal ointment and resinal soap. Resinal Soap soothes tender skins and helps to make poor complexions clear, fresh and lovely, because it contains this resinal prescription.

The Cost of Farm Land.
When we consider the price of foods, we find an explanation of the increased cost in the high cost of farm lands. In 1900 the United States census gave the average value of farm land in the United States as $15.67 an acre, but the present average price is estimated at $45.66, which represents an increase of almost 300%. To guard against future needs, you should save a part of your income and deposit the money with The Citizens National Bank, 138 North Pittsburgh street, Connelville.—Adv.

NATIONAL PIKE IS FINEST ROUTE TO EASTERN POINTS

It Will Be More Popular
When Mt. Pleasant Road
Is Improved.

PREFERRED TO LINCOLN HIGHWAY

Travelers Contend that it is Much to Be Desired; National Road Between Uniontown and Somerset
In Good Shape; Other Auto Gossip.

If State Highway Commissioner Black makes good his promise to have the state improve that portion of the Spout route between Connellsville and Pennsylvania, automobile travel through here is likely to pick up rapidly. Travelers declare that of the two routes to the east, the National Pike is to be preferred over the Lincoln Highway. Many Pittsburgh travelers, as well as those from other points, are just beginning to realize what a wonderful trip it is over the National Old Trails road, as the National Pike is now officially known. It is by far the more historic route of the two, and from an automobile standpoint, it is to be preferred. The road, as a whole, is in far better condition than the Lincoln Highway. Any route which carries the traveler through the length of the state of Maryland is worth while, for Maryland is probably the peer of the eastern states when it comes to road building and maintenance. Western Pennsylvania has had concrete evidence of this during the past couple of years.

Pennsylvania, however, is rapidly coming to the fore. Natives fail to appreciate just what has been accomplished in this state, and in this country, for that matter. Exotic was slow starting, but is making good now. Westward started building permanent roads years ago, and is one of the most progressive countries in the state in that regard.

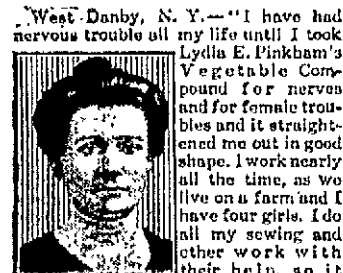

George S. Shaw, formerly of Connellsville, who spent a few days here last week, commented upon the great strides made by the Keystone State in the matter of roads.

"We have you beaten when it comes to paved thoroughfares within the city limits," he said, referring to the miles of asphalt and wood block that have been laid in Springfield, O. his home, "but we do not have the roads in the country you have. I am amazed at the road building that has been done."

Persons who have traveled through portions of Ohio agree that there is room for improvement in the Buckeye State. Incidentally, Mr. Shaw is a pioneer motorist. He claims to have gotten as much fun out of his one-cylinder Cadillac as most folks get now out of their "eights" or "twins."

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life until I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good shape. I work now all the time, as we live on a farm, and I have four girls. I do all my sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINGHAPORT, West Danby, N. Y.

Sleeplessness, nervousness, irritability, backache, headaches, dragging sensations, all point to female derangements which may be overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Virginia, faced with natural obstacles in the way of high mountain and low valleys, is going at the road problem with a vim. Various counties are spending thousands of dollars on roads, and the state is also building highways. Within a few years West Virginia will have a comprehensive system of roads, and when that day comes it will afford the most beautiful touring routes in the east. One main highway course of construction will afford a paved road extending from Morgantown to Bristol, Tenn.

Work on the National Pike has so far progressed that virtually all of the rough spots have been eliminated. There is probably not more than 100 yards of road between Uniontown and Cumberland that could be really so termed bad. Road gangs are still at work and it is expected that within the next few weeks the road will be nearly 100 per cent perfect.

While there has been some complaint on the part of autoists that the improvements are apparently not permanent, assurances are given that the state does not intend to permit this famous highway to revert to its former disgraceful condition.

APPLICATION FOR CHARTER FOR GREENE'S NEW ROAD UP TODAY

Delegation of Greene County Supporters Meet With Wheeling Promoters to Boost the Enterprise.

Application for a certificate of public convenience will be made today by the Wheeling, Ohio River & Eastern Railroad Company to the Pennsylvania Public Service Commission. This was decided upon at a meeting of the promoters of the railroad and a number of prominent Greene county residents who have pledged their moral and financial support to the project, says the Wheeling Intelligencer. That the charter will be issued was the opinion expressed by all, and Senator D. S. Walton, one of the Greene county men in attendance, said he believed an serious difficulty, if any, would be encountered.

A delegation of influential business men and officials of Western Pennsylvania went to Wheeling to assure the promoters of the railroad of their support. They were enthusiastic over the project, and believe it will be a great boon to Greene county and Wheeling and to all sections through which the road will pass.

The visitors were the guests of the Wheeling stockholders and promoters of the Wheeling, Ohio River & Eastern at luncheon. H. Walker Peterson presided. Addresses were made by the Greene county men and the project was discussed at considerable length. Judge J. W. Ray of Waynesburg said that business men, and in fact, all Greene county, are enthusiastic and will purchase large holdings of stock in the railroad as soon as active steps toward constructing the line are taken.

The visiting delegation was composed of Senator D. S. Walton, Judge J. W. Ray, I. H. Knox, editor of the Waynesburg Republican; Hiram Hedge, Attorney A. L. Murdoch and J. E. Delbert, J. D. Orndorff, cashier of the People's Bank of Waynesburg; Dr. G. M. Scott and C. M. Brady of Washington, Pa.

ASK RESTORATION OF RATES

Johnstown Coal Companies File Complaint Against P. R. R.

The Valley Smokeless Coal Company, the Ideal Coal Company and the Sunnyside Coal Company, all of Johnstown, which recently filed a complaint with the Interstate Commerce Commission, have filed a joint complaint with the Public Service Commission of Pennsylvania against the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Johnstown & Stonycreek Railroad Company.

It is alleged that the Johnstown & Stonycreek Railroad Company on June 15 increased the coal freight rate from 4.5 cents per ton to 6.5 cents per ton. The companies ask restoration of the former rate and reimbursement for overcharge on shipments since June 15.

Production at Vesta Mines

Almost two acres of coal are being mined daily at the Vesta No. 1 and No. 5 mines of the Vesta Coal Company on the Monongahela river at California, near Fredericktown. Approximately 5,000 tons are being removed daily from No. 4 mine, while the record output at No. 5 mine has been 5,432 tons in a day.

THE LABELLE MINE TO LOAD COAL FOR RIVER SHIPMENT

A New Steel Tipple Now Under Construction for That Purpose.

PART OF A BY-PRODUCT PLAN

Will Furnish 55 Per Cent of the Coal for New Coking Operation, An Aus-iliary to the LaBelle Iron Works at Steuersville; Work Is Being Rushed.

An improvement is in progress at the plant of the LaBelle Coke Company, at LaBelle, Luzerne township, which is significant in the light of present day developments in the coke trade of the Connellsville region. It is an indication of the trend towards a restoration of the river transportation of coal as an important industry in the Monongahela valley. It marks the steady progress in the growth of by-product coke making by consumers of the Connellsville region's product, and also the increasing demands which are being made upon the mines of the Lower Connellsville district for raw coal for by-product purposes.

Work has been commenced at LaBelle on a new river coal loading tipple which will be constructed of steel and when completed will be one of the most modern and completely equipped plants of the kind on the Monongahela River. The work of construction is being pushed with all possible speed with the expectation that the loading of coal will be commenced early in October.

With the completion of the new tipple the output of the mine will be practically doubled. The 200 beehive ovens will be continued in operation and the coal in excess of their daily requirements will be shipped by boat to Follansbee, W. Va., where the LaBelle Iron Works is erecting a by-product coke plant. When the mine improvements are completed the plant force will be increased by the employment of 200 or more additional men, most of whom will be miners.

The boat loading and river shipping plans of the LaBelle Coke Company are to form an important part in a new scheme of fuel supply for the LaBelle Iron Works at Steuversville, O., of which the LaBelle Coke Company is a subsidiary.

The by-product plant at Follansbee, which is on the West Virginia side of the Ohio river, will have connection with the plant of the LaBelle Iron Works by a bridge across the river to Steuversville. This structure, which is 1,520 feet in length, is being pushed to completion as is also the by-product plant. Recently the number of workmen employed on these structures has been doubled in order to have the plant in operation by October of this year, at which time it is anticipated coal can be shipped from LaBelle to Follansbee.

The by-product plant will consist of 91 Koppers ovens, in two batteries of 47 ovens each. The ovens will have a capacity of 12 1/2 tons of coal charged each. The complete plant will consume 1,535 tons of coal per day of 24 hours, yielding about 7,200 tons of coke per week. It is stated that 85 per cent of the coal will come from the LaBelle mine and 15 per cent from the Follansbee field of West Virginia. A force of 125 men will be required to operate the plant. E. H. Collier has been appointed superintendent in charge.

The coke will be transported across the Ohio over the bridge which is being built as a means of communication between the producing and consuming plants. The gas produced in the coking process will be utilized at the steel plant. The tar not consumed or used on the premises will be taken by the American Tar Products Company in recently organized enterprise which is now erecting a plant on six acres of adjoining property to be devoted to the recovery and refinement of coal products. The coke plant will also produce ammonium sulphate, benzol and tutuol, which will be sold in bulk to the manufacturers of explosives, acids and naphthalene.

Trapshooters Will Have Meet

The fourth tournament of the Western Pennsylvania Trapshooters' League will be held at Washington, Pa., on Tuesday, July 11. The shooting will begin at 9 o'clock. A practice shoot will be held on Monday evening at 8 o'clock, preceding the tournament.

A GREAT CLEAN-UP

Of Business in the Steel Market Has Been Made During the Week.

Buying of round tonnages of pig iron, including 30,000 tons of Bessemer by the Italian government, has been the leading feature of the pig iron market during the past week, says the Iron Trade Review. A 10,000-ton lot of steel making iron for France is pending and there are various other inquiries from foreign countries.

A great clean-up of outstanding business in the steel market has been made during the past week or 10 days. The bookings of steel by one company reached the immense total of 386,000 tons. Deliveries on this steel will run well into next year. The Russian government has practically closed on its inquiry for 800 to 1,000 locomotives, but the exact distribution of the order has not been made. Plates are strong and active. The Midvale Steel and Ordnance Company has taken 10,000 tons of ship plates for Japan for early delivery. Eastern plate makers continue to hold to high quotations.

RATE RESTORED

After September 1 Pittsburgh Will Be Denied Chicago Cost Rate.

By a decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission, in the intermountain rate case, rates on iron and steel material from Chicago and Pittsburgh to Pacific coast points are ordered restored to the same basis as prevailed before the Panama canal was opened. The order will become effective September 1. It will result in eliminating the rate of 55 cents per 100 pounds from Chicago, and will restore the old rate of 65 cents.

Rates east of Pittsburgh never were reduced after the original intermountain order was issued. The commission's order is based upon the fact that transportation competition via the Panama Canal route has ceased, and no prospect exists of its restoration before 1917.

MAY COAL AND COKE TONNAGE

Shipments Over Both Pennsylvania and R. & O. Show Big Gains.

During the month of May the shipments of bituminous coal over the Pennsylvania railroad were 3,225,050 tons, an increase of 527,722 tons, coke, 1,229,110 tons, an increase of 357,250 tons.

The Baltimore & Ohio carried a total of 3,324,188 tons of coal and coke over its lines, an increase of 461,810 tons as compared with the same month of last year. This included 2,967,682 tons of coke, an increase of 59,200 tons.

We put it up to Hundreds of Dentists

Long before SENRECO was offered to you we submitted it to hundreds of dentists, requesting that they put it to every test. Told them that we believed Senreco to be an unusually good dentifrice, especially as to its cleaning quality and its remedial action on sore, soft, bleeding gums; in the treatment of Pyorrhea, etc. Submitted the formula and asked them their opinion. They tested Senreco from every angle; some going even so far as to make a chemical analysis—

And They Voted Yes

With practically one accord—said:

"Senreco appeals to me more than any dentifrice I have ever seen." "I cannot say too much for Senreco. It's one of the best I have used." "I can recommend Senreco as the best." "Makes the teeth gleam and is free from injurious ingredients, including astringents. I am indeed glad to get a tooth paste that does the work." "Congratulations you on formulating a dentifrice that gives one a new idea of mouth cleanliness, etc. (These quotations are from the dentists' reports. Originals on file at our office.)"

Nearly every evening he peeped into our boarding house, where, owing to the lamplight of my departure, I had been restored to favor. I never did find out where he lived. We took our passage at the steamship office. We went to the variety shows and sang "Oh, Suzannah" with the rest. We started a bit and were only restrained from donning our dapper shirts and Col's revolving pistol in the streets of New York by a little reason, a very little reason, of common sense. When the time at last came we boarded our steamship and hung over the rail and cheered like crazy things. I personally felt as though a lid had been lifted from my spirit and that a rolling cloud of enthusiasm was at last allowed to puff out to fill my lungs.

In two days we were both over being seasick and had a chance to look around us. Our ship was a sidewheel steamer of about a thousand tons, and she carried 280 passengers, which was about 200 more than her regular complement. They were all miscellaneous, a lot of mortal eye ever full upon, from the bank Maine Yankee to the tall, tall, black haired man from Louisiana. I suppose, too, all grades of the social order must have been represented, but in our youth and high spirits we did not go into details of that sort. Every man, with the exception of a dozen or so, wore a red shirt, a slouch hat, a revolver and a bowie knife, and most of us had started to grow beards. Unless one "outfitted" closely such unimportant details as features, ways of speech or manners, one could not place his man's former status, whether as lawyer, physician or mountaineer. And we were too busy for that. I never saw such a busy place as that spluttering old ship slowly wallowing her way south toward the tropical seas. We had 58,000 things to discuss, beginning with Marshall's first discovery, skipping through the clouds of rumors of all sorts, down to intimate details of climate, outfit, prospects, plans and the best methods of getting at the gold. And to all these subjects we brought a dozen points of view, each of which was strange to all the others. We had with us men from every stratum of society and from every point of the compass. Each was a product of his own training and mental upbringing and was incapable, without great effort, of understanding his neighbor's point of view. Communication and travel were in those days very limited. It must be remembered, beginning with Marshall's first discovery, skipping through the clouds of rumors of all sorts, down to intimate details of climate, outfit, prospects, plans and the best methods of getting at the gold. And to all these subjects we brought a dozen points of view, each of which was strange to all the others. We had with us men from every stratum of society and from every point of the compass. Each was a product of his own training and mental upbringing and was incapable, without great effort, of understanding his neighbor's point of view.

"If you had broken my arm, I should have taken you."

"I shall be satisfied with three hundred a day. Allowing 300 working days to the year, that gives me about $90,000—pretty!"

"You'll have a few expenses," suggested Talbot.

"Oh—yes—well, make it a year and a half, just to be on the safe side."

Johnny was eagerly anxious to know everybody on the ship with the exception of about a dozen from his own south. As far as I could see, they did not in the slightest degree differ except in dress from any of the other thirty or forty from that section, but Johnny distinguished. He stiffened as though Yank's gun barrel had taken the place of his spine whenever one of these men was near, and he was so coldly and pointedly courteous that I would have slapped his confounded face if he had not seen to me.

"Look here, Johnny," I said to him one day, "what's the matter with those fellows? They look all right to me. What do you know against them?"

"I never laid eyes on them before in my life, sir," he replied, stiffening perceptibly.

"Take that kink out of your back," I warned him. "That won't work worth a cent with me!"

"I beg pardon. They are not gentlemen," I said. "It's a wide term. But lots of us here aren't gentlemen, far from it. But you seem to like 'em."

To kill his browns.

"I can't explain. They are the class of cheap politician that brings into dispute the civility of the south, sir."

Talbot and I burst into a shout of laughter, and even Yank, leaning attentively on the long barrel of his pistol, grinned faintly. We caught Johnny up on that word, and he was game enough to take it well. Whenever something particular had happened to be two southerners called it a "kink."

The word caught hold, so that after it came to be applied as a general term to the southern wing of venal politicians that early tried to control the new state of California.

I must confess that if I had been Johnny I should have stopped more carefully with these men. They were a dark, swart lot and dressed oddly. In fact, they and a half dozen obviously professional men alone in all that ship wore what we would call civilized clothes. I do not know which was more ludicrous, our own red shirts or the top hats, bowing skirts and ill-fitting trousers of these quietly courteous gentlemen. They were quite as well armed as ourselves, however, wearing their revolvers beneath their arm-pits or carrying short double pistols. They treated Johnny with an ironically exaggerated courtesy and paid little attention to his high airs. It was obvious, however, that he was making enemies.

which there were a half a thousand or so brought aboard—with every appearance of receiving a favor. These papers he carried down to our tiny box of a room and added to his bundle. I supposed at the time he was making all this on Moller's principle, that one gains more popularity by accepting a favor than by bestowing one.

In the early morning "one day" we came in sight of a round, high bluff with a castle atop, and a low shore running away. The ship's men told us this was Chagres.

This news caused a curious disintegration in the ship's company. We had heretofore lived together a good humored community. Now we immediately drew apart into small suspicious groups. For we had shortly to land ourselves and our goods and to obtain transportation across the isthmus, and each wanted to be ahead of his neighbor.

Here the owners of much freight found themselves at a disadvantage. I began to envy less the proprietors of these enormous or heavy machines for the security of gold. Each man ran about on the deck collecting his all his belongings into one pile. When he had done that he spent the rest of his time trying to extract definite promises from the bureau ship's officers that he should go ashore in the first boat.

Talbot and I sat on our few packages and enjoyed the scene. The ship came to anchor and the sailors swung the boat down from the davits. The passengers crowded around in a dense clamoring mob. We arose, shouldered our effects and quietly slipped aboard to the corresponding boat on the other side of the ship. Strong enough, that also was being lowered. So that we and a dozen who had made the same good guess, were, after all, the first to land.

We beached in the mud and were at once surrounded by a host of little, brown, clamorous men. Talbot took charge and began to shoot back Spanish at a great rate. Some of the little men had a few words of English. Our goods were seized and promptly disappeared in a dozen directions. I tried to prevent this, but could only collar one man at a time. All the Americans were swearing and threatening at a great rate. I saw Johnny, leaning up the beach after a fleet native, tall and full length in the mud, to the vast delight of all who beached.

Finally Talbot plowed his way to me. "It's all settled," said he. "I've made a bargain with my friend here to take us up in his boat to Cruces for $15 apiece for four of us."

"Well, if you need two more, for heaven's sake rescue Johnny," I advised. "He'll have apoplexy!"

We halted Johnny and explained matters. Johnny was somewhat put to it to attain his desired air of imperturbable calm.

"They've got every blasted thing I own and made off with it," he cried. "Confound it, sir, I'm going to shoot every saddle colored head in the place if I don't get back my belongings!"

"Well, let's go," advised Talbot. "I don't know the same down here, but it strikes me they can't get very far through these swamps, if they do try to steal, and I don't believe they're stalling anyway. The whole performance to me bears a strong family resemblance to hotel runners. Here, comrade!"

I talked a few moments with his boatman.

"That's right," he told us then. "Come on!"

We walked along the little crescent of beach, looking into each of the boats in the long row drawn up on the shore. They were queer craft, dug out from the trunks of trees, with small decks in bow and stern, and with a low roof of palm-leaf and awnings. By the time we had reached the end of the row we had collected all our effects. Our own boatman stowed them in his craft.

Thereupon, our minds at rest, we returned to the landing to enjoy the scene. The second ship's boat had beached, and the row was going on, worse than before. In the scuffling, cursing, shouting mass we caught sight of Yank's tall figure leading imperiously on his rifle muzzle. We made our way to him.

"Got your boat yet?" Talbot shouted at him.

"Got nothing yet but a headache in the ears," said Yank.

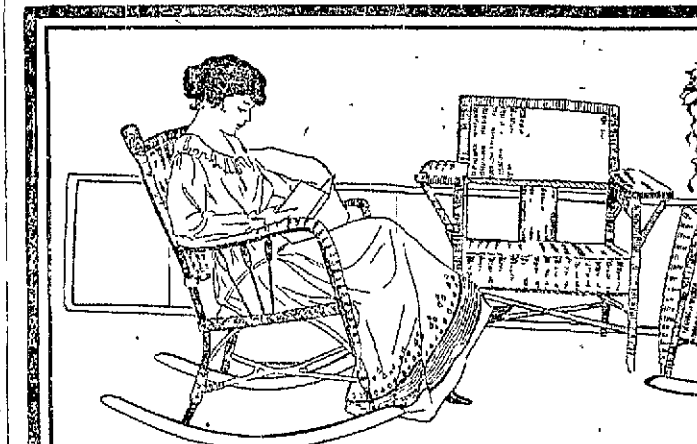

"Come with us, then. Where's your plunder?"

Yank stooped and swung to his shoulder a small bundle filled with ropes.

"She's all that," said he. These matters settled, we turned with considerable curiosity to the village itself. It was all exotic, strange. Everything was different, and we saw it through the eyes of youth and romance as epitomizing the storied tropics.

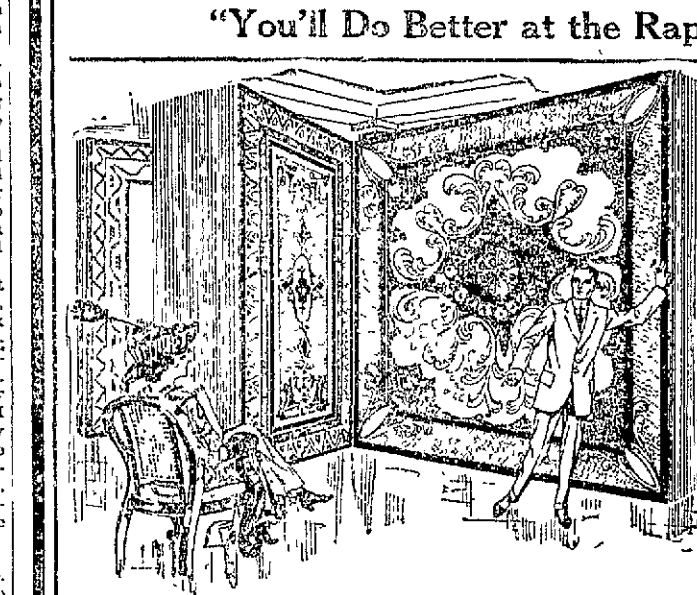

Johnny and I wandered about completely fascinated. Talbot and Yank did not seem so impressed. Finally Talbot called a halt.

"This is all very well. If you kids like to look at yellow fever, blackjack and corruption, all right," said he. "But we've got to start pretty soon after noon, and in the meantime where do we eat?"

a fifteen minutes' search failed to disclose our man. Therefore we returned to the beach. A crowd was gathered close about some common center in the unspeakable reckless manner of men about a dog fight or some other kind of a row. We pushed our way in. Johnny and Yank were backed up against the palm-tree awning of one of the boats in an attitude of deadly and quiet menace. Not two yards away stood four of our well-dressed friends. Nobody as yet displayed a weapon, except that Yank's long rifle lay across the hollow of his left arm instead of over his shoulder. But it was evident that lightnings were playing. "The boatman, who had appeared, alone was saying anything, but he seemed to be supplying language for the lot. Johnny's tense, alert attitude relaxed a little when he saw us. "Well," he said, "I'm all right. Yank and I found our goods dumped out on the beach and others in their place," said Johnny.

"So you proceeded to reverse matters. How about it?" he inquired pleasantly of the four men.

"I know nothing about it," replied one of them shortly. "We brood this boat, and we intend to have it, and no whippersnapper is going to keep us from it."

"I see," said Talbot pleasantly. "Well, excuse me a moment while I talk to my friend." He addressed the man in Spanish and received short, sullen replies. "He says," Talbot explained to us, "that he never saw us before in his life and never agreed to take us up the river."

"Well, that settles it," stated the other man.

"How much did you offer to pay him?" asked Talbot.

The man stared. "None of your business," he replied.

"One moment," said Talbot Ward, with a new edge to his voice. "This is my boat, not yours. My baggage is in it. My boatman is on the ground. That he is forgetful has nothing to do with the merits of the case. You know this as well as I do. Now, you can acknowledge this peacefully and get out of my way, or I don't care a continental red copper which. Only, I warn you, the first man who makes a move with anything but his two feet will be shot dead."

He stood, his hands hanging idly by his sides, and he spoke very quietly. The four men were not cowards that I'll swear, but one and all they stared into Ward's eyes and came individually to the same conclusion. I do not doubt that glancing flicker of reflection or of devilment was very near the surface.

"Of course, if you are very positive, pray command me," broke in Ward. The crowd moved off, the boatman with it. I reached out and colored him.

Talbot had turned on Johnny.

"Fairfax," said he, "one of the first things you must learn is not to stir things up again once a victory is gained. Those men were sore, and you took the best method possible of bringing on a real fight."

Poor Johnny dashed to the roots of his boat.

"You're right," said he in a stifled voice.

Talbot Ward thawed completely, and a most winning smile illumined his face.

"Why, that's what I call handsome, Johnny," he cried. "It's pretty hard to admit the wrong. You and Yank certainly looked bold and warlike when he came along. Where's that confounded muzzo? Oh, you have him, Frank! Good boy! Come here, my amiable citizen. I guess you understand English after all, or you couldn't have bargained so shrewdly with our blackleg friends."

The flush slowly faded from Johnny's face. Yank's sole contribution to the changed conditions was to spit with great care and to shift the butt of his rifle to the ground.

"Now," Talbot was admonishing the boatman, "that was very bad. When you make a bargain stick to it. But I'll tell you what I will do. I will ask all people, save, everywhere—your people, my people—and if everybody pays $20 then we pay $20. Satisfy! But we pay $20 unless you get us to Cruces pronto, satisfi. Now we start."

The boatman broke into a torrent of talk.

"The first man who makes a move with anything but his two feet will be shot dead."

I should not dream of doubting your word or of interfering," said the tallest and quietest who had remained in the background. "We desire to do justice to the man."

Johnny, behind us, snorted loudly and deliberately.

"If my knowledge of Spanish is of any value in assisting you to a boat, I am at your service."

They were quite amiable, indeed.

At the end of the period mentioned Talbot and the two men appeared. They were quite amiable, indeed.

friendly—and laughed together as they came. The "assistant" proved to be a tremendous negro, nearly naked, with the big muscles and a good natured, grinning face. He wore large brass ear circles and bracelets of copper. We all pushed the canoe to the very edge of the water and clambered aboard. The negro bent his mighty shoulders. We were loaded.

Our padrone, as Talbot told us we should call him, stood in front clad in a colored muslin shirt. The broad sluggish river was alive with boats, all making their way against the current. By the time the lagoon had narrowed, however, they had pretty well scattered.

We entered a tropical forest, and never shall I forget the wonder of it. The banks were lined to the water's edge with vegetation, so that one could see nothing but the jungle. There were great palm trees, which we recognized, and tugu trees, which we did not, but which Talbot identified for us. It was a very bold sort of tree, as I remember it. Then there were tremendous sycamores in which were nests as big as beehives, and banana trees with long leaves, probably the most exotic touch of all, and beautiful noble mangoes like domes of a green cathedral, and various sorts of cacti and shrubs and lilies—growing among them.

Our men paddled steadily ahead. The negro hummed strange minor songs to himself. Suddenly he flashed his teeth at us and broke into full voice.

Oh, Susannah, don't cry for me! I'm off to California with my banjo on my knee.

The accent was queer, but the words and tune were right. Talbot questioned him in Spanish.

"He says all Americans sing it. He has taken many a river."

"Too many," muttered Johnny. "I wish we'd started three months sooner."

It was growing dusk when we came in sight of a village of bamboo huts on the right bank. To this we headed. Suddenly the boat struck the beach when both of our men leaped ashore and raced madly toward the huts, pausing only long enough to slide the boat beyond the grip of the river. We followed, considerably mystified. Quick as we were, we found both the padrone and his man, together with a dozen others, already seated at a monte table. The padrone was acting as banker.

AWFUL SACRIFICE MUST BE MADE IN ALLIED OFFENSIVE

British Captain Expressed Doubt Whether Any General Dared the Risk.

SOME SIDELIGHTS ON THE WAR

Letter Reveals Attitude of Men in the Trenches: Wear Down Germany is the Policy, He Says. But it is Night Bankrupt All of Europe.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 6.—The "big push" which the British and French have at last attempted along the northern portion of the German line has been viewed by at least some of the officers in the British trenches as likely to entail a sacrifice of life "that no general will be prepared to face," according to a captain whose letter from the British front, written just before the big forward movement began, gives some interesting light on the present psychology of the men in the trenches. Ralph L. Shanly, a New York manufacturer, makes public the letter, without disclosing the identity of the captain who wrote it.

"We talked of a 'big push' when I was in London," says the officer. "It may be attempted, and I may be in it, but the sacrifice of life will be something that in my humble opinion, no general will be prepared to face. Only those who have had some experience of trench warfare can appreciate the stupendous difficulties of a great forward movement, with its attendant wholesale slaughter of the very blood that England requires most. No; in my opinion, whatever though it be, our policy must be one of attrition—of wearing out the enemy—a policy that I fully recognize, however, may mean the bankruptcy of the civilized world. Verily it is doubtless the last great effort of a desperate and wonderfully organized military nation, but its failure in that quarter will not render the task of overthrowing the well-handled masses of troops very much easier, under trench circumstances."

In other parts of his letter, the British captain frankly discloses what he thinks of war: "Between you and me," he says, "war is the most damnable, stupid, senseless thing that was ever invented for settling disputes, and is carried on by brainless, well-meaning men, that you wouldn't give the office boy's job to. Incompetence, inefficiency and pluck; atrocity, interference, red tape and ability, are all mixed up together out here, in a manner that would drive a business man like you crazy.

"I have no intention of wearing you with tales of 'hurling' shells, and the deafening roar of cannon, making your blood run cold with stories of the sights that disgust you, and you fill you with deep sympathy; of shocks and hairbreadth escapes; of tales of valor, and of trembling knees; of the brave British officer shivering under shell fire (although I have done that stunt many a morning, without cutting myself); of shots that pierced the tunic to be deflected finally by the small Bible presented by the blue and brown eyed maiden of Bloisbury Square; of the bullying officer being saved by the fresh-faced youngster, 'hurling a noble revenge.'"

"Strangely enough, in my short experience, I have seen many of these things, including the winning of a Military Cross at

CONTRACT COKE MARKET IS QUIETER; NOT MUCH SECOND HALF BUSINESS OPEN

Some Consumers Disposed to Trust to Monthly Buying.

SPOT FURNACE COKE STILL $2.75

Shortage of Independence Week Has Stimulated Demand and Priced up Price: Wide Range Since First of Year: Foundry Remains Unchanged.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

PITTSBURG, July 5.—With the large additional batch of second half furnace coke contracts reported a week ago there is not much second half business left to be closed and the contract market has taken on a quieter aspect. In some quarters it is thought that the consumers who are not yet covered may elect to buy coke from month to month, through being imbued with the idea that late in the year coke will be easier than the average price of the half year, through the advent of additional by-product coke from time to time. This would be a reversal of the usual experience, as the lessened output of blast furnaces in the summer months, on account of weather conditions, makes coke consumption less than, while late in the year coke producing and shipping is attended with weather difficulties, invariably making a strong spot market.

Including second half coke contracts placed early in the year there has been a total movement of 200,000 tons a month or more. Not for a long time has there been such range in prices done, as very early in the year there was a little business done at $2.50, then later on $2.75 was obtained. After an interval in which there were no negotiations the market opened again with operators asking $2.75. Finally they accepted $2.65 and instead of this proving a concession from the general value there were afterwards sales made at $2.50 and then at $2.55. The whole market, however, has not come down to $2.50 by any means, as the operators are generally asking $2.60 and some of them probably would not depart from that figure. A contract has just been closed for about $2.60 tons monthly over second half at $2.65, which is the absolute minimum of the contract market, most operators asking to $2.80.

The demand for spot furnace coke to tide over a possible short supply during the week of Independence Day put the price up to $2.75, where it still remains. Some sales of small and inferior lots have been made at less figures, but the leading merchant interests hold firmly for the price quoted. They have been unable to supply the demand, hence the hard price. It is reported that over 100 cars additional could have been sold at this price on Saturday had the coke been available.

Foundry coke is in fair demand, with no particular excitement, and the market as a whole is quotable as follows:

	Pittsburgh	Foundry
January	$2.75	$2.75
February	$2.75	$2.75
March	$2.75	$2.75
April	$2.75	$2.75
May	$2.75	$2.75
June	$2.75	$2.75

Average prices by months of spot furnace and foundry coke have been as follows thus far this year:

	Pittsburgh	Foundry
January	$2.75	$2.75
February	$2.75	$2.75
March	$2.75	$2.75
April	$2.75	$2.75
May	$2.75	$2.75
June	$2.75	$2.75

The Pittsburgh coal market has now returned to a practically normal position, as substantially all the miners, except the few who moved to other districts, have now returned to work and have been at work for a week or more. Outside coal is no longer a factor and there is no great demand even for Pittsburgh coal for prompt shipment. Black, 90c to $1.00 mine-run, $1.20 to $1.40 34-inch, $1.40 to $1.50 1 1/2 inch, $1.50 to $1.60, per net ton at mine, Pittsburgh district. The local pig iron market has continued very quiet, with only occasional inquiry from domestic consumers, but with continued heavy inquiry for Bessemer for export. Prices are not overly firm, except on Bessemer. W. P. Snyder & Company's averages, computed from the actual sales of Valley Iron in 1,600 ton lots and over, are announced for June at $21.00 Valley, for Bessemer and $18.00, Valley for basic.

Only small tonnages were involved in either computation, but the interesting fact is developed that while sellers were claiming that the market was being held at $18.25 to $18.50 there was no sale of 1,000 tons or more made during June at above $18.00. The Bessemer average represented an advance over May of 16.7 cents, while the basic average represented a decline of 16.07 cents. The pig iron market is now quotable as follows:

	Pittsburgh
Bessemer	$21.00
Basic	$18.00
No. 2 foundry	$18.25
Malleable	$18.50
Gray, forged	$18.00

These prices are f. o. b. Valley furnaces, prices delivered Pittsburgh being higher by the 55-cent freight.

COKE TRADE SUMMARY.

Connellsville coke production rose last week to 425,000 tons, but it was not enough to meet the demand. Shipments aggregated 437,000 tons, the furnace interest sending out considerable coke to tide their furnaces over the short holiday week caused by the general celebration of Independence Day in the coke region. The merchant operators got rid of some stock coke also. This condition hardened the coke market and was gratifying to the merchant operators. The price of spot coke was established at $2.75.

THE EXPORT DEMAND CHIEF DEPENDENCE OF STEEL MARKET

Steel Steel Likely to be in Greater Demand in Second Than in First Half: Unfinished Steel High.

Special to The Weekly Courier.

NEW YORK, July 5.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron situation tomorrow as follows:

The steel market has now entered the proverbially dull summer months, but no material change occurs as a regular summer dullness fell upon the market early in June. There is but little outside the export market to depend upon for sales, but the export market continues decidedly active. The buying of steel, supposed to have been practically completed for early May, is still in evidence, with even first quarter deliveries required for. The production of steel in the second half of this year will undoubtedly be greater than in the first half. Demand from neutral countries for finished steel has for two or three months been decidedly larger than at any time since 1913, and there is no sign of abatement in this demand.

Particular strength is disclosed in the unfinished steel markets, chiefly by reason of continued heavy export demand. As high as $43, Pittsburgh or Youngstown mill, is being obtained for soft open-hearth steel ingots or ordinary quality, the demand for ingots at such high prices relative to billets at about $45 being due to the fact that they can be rolled to any size desired when delivered. The export demand for Bessemer pig iron continues heavy, and inquiries have become more numerous for foundry iron for export. The pig iron market as a whole is dull, with a tendency to weakness, perhaps solely on account of the intemperate offering of speculative iron for cash sale when the consumers are well covered for the immediate future.

WAR'S DEMANDS

Will be Promptly Met by Munitions and Other Manufacturers.

If hostilities with Mexico develop to the extent now feared, there will undoubtedly be decided increase in the demand for munitions and other equipment and manufacturers are preparing to meet promptly any demands that the government may make, says The Iron Trade Review. In order to rush the manufacture of motor trucks at Cleveland, mills have promised to hurry the delivery of steel required. The pig iron market which has been dull with a tendency to sag, is being stimulated by a large volume of inquiries from foreign lands. Furnaces in the Cleveland district which have received inquiries could not quote on account of inability to make deliveries in the time required. The three freighters recently ordered by M. A. Hanna & Company will require about 10,000 tons of shapes. An eastern company which recently booked 10,000 tons of plates for shipment to Japan has before it inquiries from the same country amounting to 50,000 tons and is about to close for some tonnage with eastern ship yards.

There is a very heavy demand for billets for export. A locomotive company has taken an order for 100 small locomotives for use in transporting materials to the trenches in France. A Cleveland concern has an order for 20,000 tons of light rails for portable railroads in France.

OHIO COAL RATES REDUCED.

Hocking Valley Mines Advanced 2 to 25 Cents Per Ton by Revisions.

Coal freight rates of the Hocking Valley railroad and the Toledo & Ohio Central railroad have been given reductions varying from 2 to 25 cents by order of the state public utilities commission in the Hocking Valley and Sunday Creek case institute a year ago by District No. 6 United Mine workers of America and prosecuted subsequently by the Sunday Creek Coal company.

The Ohio coal industry will be greatly benefited, it is said, if the commission is sustained by the supreme court.
